Welcome

Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness doesn't stop for your clients when they retire. It's an ongoing endeavor. You would agree most of them look to your expertise to help guide them in pursuing their retirement objectives. If you readily take the responsibility of providing your clientele with quality products, exceptional service and consistent performance, you've just found a 403(b) provider that corresponds with your principles as an independent 403(b) producer.

Like you, we know that a comfortable retirement doesn't just happen — it takes commitment, careful planning and saving. State Retirement Systems alone will not maintain the life-style your clients have worked hard to achieve. They need to establish their own foundation for a future of income security. You may use Tax-Sheltered Annuities because they offer significant wealth building and retirement income benefits. Surveys show that the greatest financial worry of people at or near retirement is the fear of outliving their income. A primary purpose of annuities is to help insure against the risk that your clients will outlive their savings.
